Applicants must properly make the seven patent references listed on page 7 of the specification of record (providing copies) in this application responsive to this office action if they are not yet in the examiner's official file (applicants may look with the PAIR system at the contents of the official USPTO file). In addition, applicants must also make JP 2002-379903 discussed in the specification of record. A proper IDS for citation of these references should be prepared and submitted with the copies of the prior art provided.

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group 1, claim(s) 1-6, drawn to tension applying means.

Group 2, claim(s) 7-13, drawn to sliding unit shape.

Group 3 claim(s) 14-17, drawn to male and female engaging portions.

Group 4, claim(s) 18-20, 28-34, drawn to seal member disposed on sliding door.

Group 5, claim(s) 21-22, drawn to cover members covering racks of the sliding door and pinions of the shaft.

Group 6, claim(s) 23-26, drawn to extensible cable for adjusting opening of sliding door.

Group 7, claim 27, drawn to shaft provided with ventilating passage.

The inventions listed as Groups 1-7 do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The examiner incorporates by reference the detailed analysis in the restriction requirement made in the supplemental European search report for application EP 04745687.6-2423 issued March 4, 2008 and made of record in this application by applicants on April 9, 2008.

Applicant must elect one of the above Groups 1-7.

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

If applicable and consistent with the above election of an invention, and in addition thereto, applicants must elect one of each of the following species (i.e. one overall species, one tension applying species and one seal species):

First overall species of Figure 2,
Second overall species of Figure 9 and
Third overall species of Figure 19

First species of tension applying means of Figure 4-5 and Second species of tension applying means of Figure 6

First seal species of Figure 27,
Second seal species of Figure 28,
Third seal species of Figure 29,
Fourth seal species of Figure 30 and Fifth seal species of Figure 31.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: they have mutually exclusive constructions and the generic features of all of these species are found in the prior art already made of record by applicant. Therefore any patentability will necessarily lie in the special technical features that are not common to the three Groups of species above.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.
